Hi I’m a little lost! Can you help me by writing in the names of the different countries and oceans on the map?

Compass rose
Shows you the directions on the map. This is what sailors use to navigate! Colour in your compass rose to make it look nice!

Cover the list if you know the answers and write on the map without looking.

Fantastic navigating Skipper!

VOLVO OCEAN RACE • Technology & Communications

Long before satellite technology sailors used the sun, stars and planets to know their location whilst at sea.

When the race began in 1973, it was really hard for the sailors on the boats to be in contact with the rest of the world. With new technology like satellites it’s much easier to send information and pictures, and even make video calls!

Add some colour to this image with colouring pencils or markers. Join the icons up by colouring in the dotted line with the same colour as the icon.
